

Assignment #2
Global Health Issues Seminar
Value – 20% of the final grade for the course

The purpose of this assignment is to review and discuss with your peers an area of interest to you about a global health issue. The assignment entails the review of TWO current (within the last 5 years), peer-reviewed articles on a health issue. These articles can address a challenge or victory in global health. The articles must be related to the same topic but may be from different perspectives. You will be expected to provide the class with electronic copies of the articles, a one-page summary of each article, and three questions posed that related to the topic to direct the discussion. This is an individual assignment, each student will develop and lead their own seminar.

In addition you will be responsible for facilitating any discussions prompted by your posted questions, generating further dialogue, and keeping the discussion on track. Please note you will be assigned a week for your seminar in the first week of classes. During your seminar presentation you will be expected to facilitate all dialogue related to your seminar. No participation grade will be awarded to those holding the seminar except for what is required by the assignment criteria. If you would like to participate in other peer's seminars in addition to your own, you will earn participation grades that those weeks.

The summaries and questions should be included in one document for a total of 3 pages not including title page, references, or appendices and should follow APA Manual 6th Ed. Scholarly and DHSc writing guidelines.
